the Trust. Yet no explanation was auchsfed on the other side.

Take the first 40 per cent, ad valorem rate on raw and refined sugar, he said. What was it effect? This duty was levied against the price at the place of purchase, not at the ports of exportings the port of enthy. Sugar was produced abroad under a complicated system of taxation, drawbacks and bounties and he thought the ad valorem duty imposed by this schedule would distinctly exclude France from exporting a pound to the United Bates, certainly Austria and practicelly Germany. The 40 perfent duty, based on prices ranging in New York, would give the Sugar Trust 46 cents protection on the one-lighth specific duty on refined, and the one-lenth cent, differential. On London quotations the differences between the prices of raw and refined sugar ranged at about nine-tenths of a cent, which would make the 40 per cent, ad valorem duty afford a protection of 25 cents on the one hundred pounds. e one hundred pounds.

VIKING SHIP IN PERIL.

Came Near Being Beached Off Lincoln Park, Chicago.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, June 4.—After having sailed to liver 10,000 miles without a mishap, the Viking ship had a narrow escape from being wrecked off Lincoln Park on its return from the six months' cruise on the Mississippi River and tributaries. When the hawser was dropped by the tug Morford the fourteen Norwegian captains on as to how the craft should be sailed into the lagoon.

The wind was blowing half a gale from the north and the ship drifted rapidly towards the beach. The Norwegian captains suddenly realized they were in Canger of being wrecked. The anchor was dropped and a line passed to the stamer Sunbeam just in time, and the latter towed the Viking ship away into safety.

BASEBALL CHAT.

Three straight from Chicago, with hardly a hit for Anson's colts in the series, is a proud record of the Brocklyn pitchers aggressiveness. Unfortunately the fit work was entirely defensive. With fixe's team batting as well as they are fielding they would have absolutely nothing to fear.

Que of the most graceful and generous manifestations of Uncle Anson's big hard.

Que of the most graceful and generous manifestations of Uncle Anson's big heart is his practice of contributing to the fielding average of his pitchers. When an easy grounder is batted to within five or ten feet of first base. Anson lets the pitcher cover the bag while he passes the ball to him, taking an assist and giving the pitcher the out, when he might easily handle the ball alone.

Shindle is not missed from third bag very seriously, as Shoch is playing the position as he plays hearify every position on the diamond when needed. Burns needs a rest, in order to recuperate his atting powers.

Col. James to Assist Nicoll.

That the police authorities have been thoroughly alarmed and rattled by the sensational revelations of the last week is shown by the fact that Col. E. C. James, the great objector, has been retained to assist Mr. Nicoll in looking out for the interests of the accused officials.

Col. James was one of the earliest comers this morning. Lawyer Stillwell, of Mount Vernon, was also on hand. He did not bring his quondam client, ex-Son-in-Law Gideon Granger, with him, and said he only came to be on hand in case the Committee wanted to ask him any questions about Granger. He hasn't seen the latter, he says, for more than a week, and he knows nothing as to his present whereabouts.

Col. James did not remain in court throughout the session.

Police Capt. Cross, formerly of the Eldridge street station, arrived and took a seat in the chair reserved for witnesses.
